Meta

- What is The Codex?
- Adding information to the Codex

What is The Codex?

Introduction

The Codex is a book of forbidden knowledge for trans people. It explains how to perform tasks such as changing your name in extreme detail, with pictures.

To get started, visit the Shelves page or:

- If you'd like to update your legal documents, visit Updating Legal Documents.
- If you'd like to update other documents or accounts, visit Updating Other Accounts.

Quick Exit

Pressing Escape on your keyboard on any page of The Codex will get you off the page quickly, should you need to do that.

Disclaimer

The contents of this website are not legal advice! We are not lawyers. Consult with a lawyer, court clerk, or other person qualified to provide legal advice before starting any legal case or proceeding.

The contents of this website are not medical advice! We are not doctors. Consult with a doctor before beginning, changing, or stopping any treatment, or performing any test.

If you'd like to request to add or change some information on The Codex, visit Adding Information to The Codex.

Adding information to the Codex

By default, new users can't add or edit content. If you'd like to add new information, please contact me (Elara) at support@elara.ws and let me know what you'd like to add or change. I'd also like to know how you got the information and a summary of the information itself so that I can verify it.

Once I've confirmed everything, you'll get permissions for your book, shelf, or chapter, and you can add your resources :3

If you've noticed that any information on The Codex is outdated or incorrect, either ask me to get permissions to edit the information, or just let me know where the outdated information is, and if possible, where I can find updated information.

Thanks so much for keeping this resource useful!